W. P. Windham for her vote

Boy! Was I wrong with the prediction that the special session of the Legislature would only see the education budget passed and the other would fall by the wayside. Probably the first mistake I made was in not realizing just how concerned the lawmakers were over the reaction of the voters, come September. Also, I had no way of predicting the effective control George Wallace would exert over Goat Hill - control that became evident when the Governor addressed the joint session of the Legislature. He talked like the George Wallce of the "ole days."

Dr. and Mrs. McCreary were showing off their roses again last week and the staff of the Elba Clipper were the lucky recipients of the assortment of eleven different kinds of the perfectly formed beauties. Doc was able to name the eleven different roses represented in the arrangement, including the delightful "Alabama" rose. A dozen of the longstemmed beauties sold at auction (right here in Elba) recently for fifty-five dollars!

Attorney General Bill Baxley continues to say ugly things about my candidate for governor. Baxley and I discussed this on his visit here this week, but I was careful not to get into a debate with him 'cause my publisher friend, Bob Ingram had just noted that "Billy" was a professor of "wordslinging and gambling." The one thing I should have warned him about was if he didn't be nice, we were going to tear up his engraved invitation to the inauguration next January!

Football fever is already in the air. Ye ole editor likes football almost as much as fishing, but not in August. I learned to love the sport back when spectators wore all the clothes they could find, stood by a fire of old tires at half-time and those so inclined visited the car for some inner warmth. Now we are in shortsleeved shirts most of the season and have to take a bath before the game and again after it is over, just to live with ourselves.

The political scene has got to warm up fast or it will be too late. This year the date is not the only thing that is changed. Very little big rally, crowd-counting and country music, that was employed só successfully by our own Big Jim Folsom, is evident today. The one notable exception is Bill Baxley, candidate for governor. He has the well-known (and expensive) Lower Forty Grass with our own Roger Boothe; helicopter, tractor trailer and, at least three motor homes hitting the country towns. Also his campaign workers from surrounding counties flock to the site to swell the crowd, again a throwback to a theory that passed with the era in which it was developed and later overused.

To the other extreme is one or two of the once major candidates who are doing very little of anything. Our only contact with Charles Woods (other than seeing TV commercials) was a letter months ago saying he would qualify on a certain day and for us to "come see him in Dothan sometime"

Senator Joe Fine is still in trouble with the reports of him taking money from a coal miner and not reporting it on his ethics commission report. At this point it doesn't matter if he is guilty or not. The voters are avoiding the smoke. He can only hope he had enough of a commanding lead to weather the storm. I don't have the foggiest idea who I will vote for in the attorney general's race, but Fine was one of the three I considered the best prospects and he had a good chance of winning. Right now the jury is still out and time is running short.

It is alarming to know that most of us voters can't even name the major candidates for these offices, however, it was a mild surprise several days ago when a local citizen, on top of the olitical scene didn't even know there was more than one candidate in the race for the State Senate seat of Crum Foshee! This individual will be fully aware of all the races before election day but some of the rest of us would "bear some watching' or could use some help.

Last week I went to a meeting that required an advance ticket to get in the front door. True to form my tickets were left in Elba on the dresser in the bedroom. This afforded me with an opportunity to brush up my fast talk-con you way in routine from days gone by--and it worked. The man with the expensive suit and hair on his upper lip that I chose to try it on later admitted I had done such a good job that he would have even purchased a used car from me right on the spot!

At the Dothan meeting last week, I was sitting there with my one good suit on which was too tight in spots from its shrinking when two distinguished gentlemen tapped me or the shoulder and wanted to apply for the position of chief of the Elba Police Department. After giving me a hard time long enough for all to hear, they went back to their seat with a little grin on their faces.

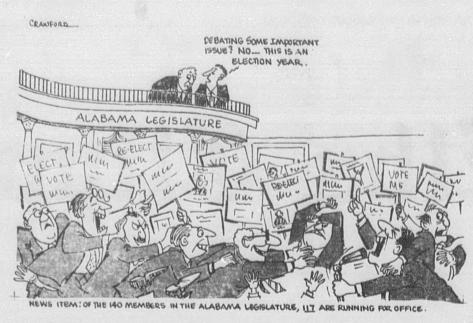

The Elba School System almost had a special $500,000 appropriation from the education budget last week. Orginally Rep. Holley got it on the budget in the regular session; a large group of Elba folks hit the road and kept it in the Senate bill, but then the whole thing failed. Then "Walking Wendell' Mitchell went to work for Elba, as he had promised and helped Senator Crum Foshee get the half million on the Senate bill again in the special session. But when the Senate and House conference committee got together, Elba and a similar deal for Enterprise State Junior College got left out. They made a yeoman's effort, and Mitchell told us twice he and Crom had the backing of Jere Beasley. Walking Wendell declined to pin the blame on anyone for us getting left out, but we were keeping up with the situation and workings behind the scenes and can call some names and cram some promises down the throat of a couple of politicians if the right opportunity ever arrives.

NATHAN MATHIS

TO WORK FOR YOU IN THE ALABAMA SENATE

Nathan Mathis Accepted A Challenge

In February, 1972, he went to work at Slocomb in Geneva County with the Custom Feed Services, a business that served the needs of farmers in nearby Houston County as well as Geneva County and other areas of the Wiregrass. There, he learned to listen to the problems of farmers and how to help them. He was a farmer. He shared their

A year later he had a chance to buy the business. It became Mathis Farm Services. Nathan is proud of how his business grew. Proud of the chance to serve customers in Houston, Coffee, Geneva, and Covington Counties.

Nathan Mathis Wants To Serve

Nathan will take to Montgomery a record of honesty and integrity. Check with the people who know him best. Ask his neighbors. He has no "special friends"... no special interests. He will work for all the people of his district.

Nathan Mathis

Started Early At the age of 18, he went into business for himself with a $16,000 cottonpicker, purchased on credit. Four years later he was out of debt Thanks to God and a lot of hard work. At 22, after a year as a share farmer, he and his wife, Sue, purchased an 80-acre farm near Wicksburg...also on credit. Two years later they built a home on their farm and moved there from a tenant house near Jellico. The Jaycees of Dothan honored him in 1967 when they selected him Outstanding Young Farmer of Houston County. This was largely due to his willingness to work and be involved in the affairs of his community.

Nathan Mathis Can Make Decisions

Nathan's experiences in life have taught him how to make decisions. He has had to use his money wisely. He now pledges to use your money wisely. He is determined to get as much for your money as he has always tried to get for his. He is determined to get MORE.
